2020

Hi! I'm Faith, a Public Defender with the Bexar County Public Defender's Office, where I have the privilege of representing noncitizen clients facing criminal allegations. I'm originally from the Rio Grande Valley, and my roots have shaped my deep commitment to helping others and building strong, caring communities.

SAYLA has always stood out to me as a place where young lawyers can find encouragement, connection, and joy in the midst of a demanding profession. I'm running for a director position because I want to give back to that mission. I truly care about creating spaces where people feel welcome, seen, and supported. Whether it's through planning meaningful events, offering mentorship, or simply showing up as someone others can rely on, I'd love the opportunity to serve a community where we can grow, learn, and thrive together.
